Step into a role where digital innovation meets purpose. As the Manager, Web, Brand & CX Liaison, you 'll be at the heart of transforming how patients and healthcare professionals experience Novartis brands online. You 'll drive operational excellence across a dynamic portfolio of over 50 commercial websites, ensuring seamless collaboration between cross-functional teams and aligning product strategies with business goals. This is your opportunity to shape the future of pharma brand engagement in the US – where creativity, data, and customer-centricity converge.

About the Role

Key Responsibilities:

- Support the development of web product vision, roadmap, and strategy aligned with Novartis priorities
- Drive adoption of new features through customer journey insights and strategic enablement
- Manage day-to-day operations, sprint accountability, and compliance workflows
- Enhance agile practices and ensure team adherence in collaboration with agile coach
- Analyze product data to inform decisions and optimize performance
- Coordinate cross-functional efforts across marketing, governance, and development teams
- Identify and implement process improvements across the product lifecycle

Essential Requirements:

- University degree required; advanced degree in science or business is a plus
- Minimum 2 years ' experience in healthcare, consulting, or pharma with global exposure
- Strong communication skills and ability to engage with senior stakeholders
- Proven leadership in cross-functional, multicultural, and matrixed environments
- Expertise in content management systems and marketing technologies
- High adaptability, curiosity, and familiarity with agile or product methodologies.
