摘要

We are looking for a Value & Access Manager to join our Value & Access (V&A) team and help deliver on our purpose of reimagining medicine for patients. In this role, you will focus on the early portfolio, integrating strategic insights and cross-functional collaboration to shape access pathways and enable timely patient access to innovative healthcare solutions. By joining our dynamic V&A team, you will be part of a team that is dedicated to delivering value to patients while ensuring fast access to our innovative therapies in Belgium and Luxembourg. Your work will directly impact patient lives, helping them lead healthier and more productive lives.

Your analytical mindset and collaboration skills will be essential in developing impactful value propositions for patients, stakeholders, and Novartis. Drive and execute projects that truly make a difference in people's lives, maintaining the highest standards of operational excellence. If you have experience in the healthcare market and a passion for enhancing access to medicines, this role is for you!

About the Role

Key Responsibilities:

- Lead end-to-end reimbursement processes, including submitting patient access dossiers to regulatory authorities and negotiating with payer stakeholders, applying high standards of operational excellence
- Collaborate cross-functionally to develop vision, strategy, and market-shaping initiatives for pipeline products
- Gather and utilizes insights from cross functional teams and market research to launch, develop and implement high quality Patient Access strategic and operational plans
- Identify, analyse and prioritize key market access stakeholders (internal and external) to align strategies with business goals and expand patient access.

Essential Requirements:

- Strong interest in early access, health policy and value & access
- Willingness to understand the complex legal access framework
- Analytical mindset to build scenarios, forecasts and business cases
- Customer-focused mindset
- Agility and responsiveness to business needs
- Strong proactive, clear and engaging communication (verbal and written)

Language preferences:

- Preferred: Dutch, French and English
- Alternative: Dutch + English
