Are you ready to shape the future of cardiovascular medicine across international markets? As International Medical Affairs Director - Cardiovascular, you ' ll drive innovative strategies that directly impact patient outcomes and healthcare systems. You ' ll collaborate with global experts, lead evidence generation, and ensure our medicines reach those who need them most. This is your opportunity to make a meaningful difference—bringing your expertise, vision, and passion to a team that values bold ideas and real-world impact.

About the Role

Key Responsibilities

- Experience in the cardiovascular therapeutic area (Atherosclerotic cardiovascular disease (ASCVD), atrial fibrillation (AF), and thrombosis/anticoagulation is preferred)
- Lead strategic medical affairs programs to support innovative evidence and launch readiness across international markets.
- Develop and execute integrated evidence plans to maximize value for prioritized cardiovascular portfolio.
- Partner with country Medical Affairs teams to ensure strong delivery focus on local needs.
- Advise on evidence generation, medical education, and scientific publication planning for therapeutic areas.
- Co-own development and implementation of education and communication plans for all brands.
- Track financials to ensure timely and cost-effective execution of medical activities.
- Collaborate with Development, Value & Access, and Commercial teams to shape launch portfolio and access strategies.
- Represent International Medical Affairs with internal and external stakeholders, including regulatory and industry partners.
- Provide direction for successful reimbursement and market-access strategies.
- Ensure all medical affairs activities are compliant with company policies and highest medical quality standards.

Essential Requirements

- Medical Doctor (MD) or PhD/PharmD in Health Sciences.
- Minimum 5 years of experience in the pharmaceutical industry, ideally in Medical Affairs or Clinical Development.
- Fluent oral and written English; additional relevant languages are an advantage.
- Proven ability to build credibility and influence across diverse stakeholders in a matrix organization.
- Demonstrated success in cross-functional and cross-market collaboration.
- Deep understanding of healthcare systems and key external stakeholders.
- Strong track record of delivering medical affairs projects on time and with high quality.
- Experience developing and implementing innovative programs and processes.

Desirable Requirements

- Highly preferred: Above market experience and significant medical affairs pre-launch and launch experience in major markets (such as Germany, China, Japan).
- Experience in developing and executing “Best in Class” processes at scale.
