Are you ready to lead with purpose and shape the future of cardiovascular medicine on a global scale?

Step into a pivotal leadership role where your medical expertise will drive transformative strategies across early and late-stage programs.

As Executive Director, Global Medical Affairs, you ' ll influence global evidence generation, forge innovative partnerships, and collaborate across functions to deliver meaningful impact for patients worldwide.

About the Role

Key Responsibilities

- Lead global medical strategy for cardiovascular programs, driving innovation and transformative evidence generation.
- Co-develop integrated evidence plans and external education strategies with therapeutic area teams.
- Shape early portfolio development through strategic partnerships across Development, US, and International Medical Affairs.
- Represent Global Medical Affairs in high-impact internal and external forums, including regulatory and investment communities.
- Ensure medical activities meet compliance standards and deliver measurable impact on clinical practice.
- Provide expert input into reimbursement and market access strategies to support patient access.
- Champion the voice of the patient in decision-making and evidence planning across the asset lifecycle.

Essential Requirements

- Medical degree (MD preferred) or PhD/PharmD in Health Sciences.
- Solid experience in Medical Affairs or Clinical Development within the pharmaceutical industry.
- Proven ability to think critically and navigate complex, uncertain environments independently.
- Fluent in written and spoken English; additional languages are a plus.
- Strategic mindset with strong influence across diverse stakeholders in a matrix organization.
- Demonstrated collaboration across functions and markets to co-create impactful solutions.
- Deep understanding of healthcare systems and external stakeholder dynamics.
- Strong delivery focus with a track record of executing high-quality medical affairs projects.

Desirable Requirements

- Extensive cardiovascular experience with a strong track record in early asset lifecycle, pre-launch, and launch strategy.
- Proven success in developing and scaling best-in-class medical affairs processes across global and regional organizations.
