Relocation Support: This role is based in London, UK. Novartis is unable to offer relocation support: please only apply if accessible.

Step into a role where your insights shape strategy and your leadership drives excellence. As part of a high-performing team, you 'll lead the charge in delivering impactful customer market intelligence and orchestrating scientific events that elevate global engagement. This is your opportunity to influence integrated analytics, foster collaboration across regions, and ensure quality and compliance at every level—all while making a meaningful difference in how Novartis connects with the scientific community.

About the Role

Key Responsibilities

- Analyze market trends to generate actionable customer insights
- Support brand teams in defining integrated insights and analytics plans
- Lead and develop a high-performing team for scientific events execution
- Establish and implement standards to ensure quality and compliance
- Align global, regional, and local scientific event activities
- Define team deliverables and monitor time management
- Drive strategic projects to enhance productivity and competitiveness
- Collaborate cross-functionally to support service needs and execution

Essential Requirements

- Experience working across diverse cultures and global environments
- Proven success in operations management and execution
- Strong leadership skills with experience managing teams
- Expertise in process design and optimization
- Ability to build trust-based relationships with regional stakeholders
- Demonstrated project management capabilities
- Skilled in stakeholder engagement and collaboration
- Fluent in English and Japanese with excellent communication skills
