Location: Sweden. (field based position)

This role is based in Sweden. Novartis is unable to offer relocation support for this role: please only apply if this location is accessible for you.

Are you ready to join one of the world's leading pharmaceutical companies and help ensure that patients in Sweden gain access to innovative, life-changing medicines?

Novartis is taking a bold step into the rapidly growing field of radioligand therapy - an innovation transforming oncology. This marks the beginning of an exciting journey as we establish a new business in Sweden, and we're looking for a Healthcare Manager (HCM) for Radioligand Therapies (RLT) to lead the way.

In this pivotal role, you will drive sustainable growth and elevate patient care by aligning sales, access, and brand strategies across the customer journey. You'll orchestrate cross-functional collaboration, ensuring site readiness and supporting the safe, high-quality adoption of radioligand therapies. By partnering with oncology, urology, nuclear medicine, hospital administration, and regional stakeholders, you will accelerate time to treatment, embed radioligand therapy into oncology care pathways, and deliver a seamless experience for patients and providers.

If you want to shape the future of cancer care and be part of something truly groundbreaking, this is your opportunity.

The position reports to the Customer Engagement Director of Sweden.

About the Role

Key Responsibilities:

- Act as the primary orchestrator of HCP engagement in prioritized key accounts. Manage all aspects of the HCPs interaction with the company, ensuring prompt and effective response to their needs. Leverage a broad toolbox of on-label medical and commercial strategies to develop and execute robust tactical account plans that integrate scientific knowledge with commercial execution, ensuring more patients are experiencing the benefit from our products, thereby delivering improved sales targets, and market development objectives.
- Starting launch phase, lead the account level coordination of all customer-facing initiatives across various customer facing roles in marketing, medical (including support to the Medical Leads in evidence generation activities as well as the identification of opportunities for evidence generation related to implementation and real-world usage of Novartis approved medicines), partnership & access.
- Ensure alignment on strategy and execution, as well as experience sharing, to maximize patient outcomes and drive business success.
- Map opportunities to optimize the customer and healthcare system journeys, ensuring a seamless experience that aligns with the company's broader strategy and encourages positive changes in customer performance. Identify key touchpoints for engagement to drive better outcomes for both patients and our brands.
- Lead and execute initiatives that provide high-quality medical education on on-label scientific therapeutic topics, promoting best practices and advancing standards of care for patients.
- Identify and address the needs of customers and the healthcare system by orchestrating the cross-functional implementation of targeted solutions, both digital and non-digital, to reduce barriers to the use of Novartis products and improve patient outcomes.
- Regularly provide and utilize market insights and CRM data relevant to account plans, monitor progress, and make necessary adjustments to tactics as necessary to ensure sustained success.
- Own, drive and execute digital tactics related to HCP engagement, expanding the use of digital tools and integrating virtual opportunities into customer engagement and account planning. Ensuring a modern, efficient, and comprehensive approach to customer engagement
- Ensure full compliance with regulatory requirements, including the timely reporting of Adverse Events (AEs) and Product Complaints within 24 hours. Maintain high standards of operational excellence.

Essential Requirements:

- Education: Master's or Bachelor's degree in Natural Science/ Business/Economics/or other relevant areas. (min. LIF degree)
- Previous experience from commercial and/or MSL/Medical Advisor/Medical Manager from the Pharma industry.
- Solid understanding of the Swedish healthcare system.
- Proficient Swedish and English, both written and spoken.
- Proven ability to orchestrate complex, cross-functional initiatives and projects, and drive customer focused experiences.
- Experience in translating complex scientific data to easily understandable formats.
- Strong negotiation, relationship-building and communication skills.
- Solid track record in driving sales growth and exceeding targets through innovative customer-centric activities.

Desirable Requirements:

- Previous Oncology or Urology therapeutic area knowledge.
