摘要

#LI-Hybrid

Location: Schafftenau, Austria

The External Operation Manager (EOM) is accountable for the seamless execution of the sourcing and supply strategy for IMP, AxMP, comparators and other open label non-Novartis commercial drugs used in clinical trials across the Global Clinical Supply (GCS). They serve as primary interface between the external partner (CMO), internal functions and extended stakeholders in the development organization to ensure the successful build and viable maintenance of a fully outsourced supply model leveraging strategic partnerships.

About the Role

Major accountabilities:

- Build the interface between the clinical supply chain functions, clinical teams, and the external partner with defined governance meetings (CTT Sub team, Vendor Operational Control Tower)
- Manage all applicable finance activities, Purchase Orders (PO), invoice approval and tracking financial metrics.
- Liaise with Comparator Sourcing Supply Lead and Novartis study team on a regular basis to support accurate study protocol interpretation, provide guidance for correct demand calculation and to ensure operational responsiveness to study dynamics.
- Ensure most cost-efficient material flow, minimizing waste and allowing the flexibility to accommodate the changing demand
- Monitor vendor performance with pre-defined KPIs and collaborate with vendor to identify process optimizations and ensure timely follow up and completion of actions.
- Support the collection, analysis, interpretation, cleansing and exchange of study demand, and enrollment data in close collaboration with the study team and the CMOs clinical supply optimization team
- Ensure automated key portfolio data are available, accessible and timely for external partners to operate
- Oversee and actively monitor site (re)-supply for defined high priority trials and materials.
- Support and guide the external partner in the development, maintenance, and execution of an optimal resupply strategy, in the proactive planning of site stock replenishment and the proactive expiry management, to ensure compliance and continuity of clinical supplies.
- Be the main interface between external partner functions and internal stakeholders (GCO, Regulatory, CTA Hub, Quality Assurance, Qualified Person).
- Identify, assess, and proactively communicate supply risks to all relevant stakeholders along with appropriate mitigation strategies to ensure supply continuity.
- Retrieve and communicate relevant changes in the study design, timelines, country footprint and co-ordinate the implementation with the external partner.
- Work closely with the vendors and clinical team, regulatory, and supply chain teams to ensure that the product sourcing strategy is executed according to the set trial timelines and regulatory requirements.
- In collaboration with the external partners drive for best practices, standardization and optimization of comparator demand and supply planning processes.

Minimum Requirements:

- Degree in science, engineering or equivalent.
- >5 years of practical experience in chemical / pharmaceutical industry
- Good knowledge about the Drug Development and/or clinical operations and/or supply chain management
- Basic project management, good organization and planning skills
- Knowledge of Good Manufacturing Practices and Health, Safety & Environment (GMP & HSE) regulations.
- Very good communication, Fundamental Leadership, negotiation and interpersonal skills and the ability to work in interdisciplinary teams.

Desirable Requirements:

- Clinical vendor management experience

- Contract Research Organization experience
