As a member of the Country Value & Access Leadership Team, the Pricing & Access Contracting Lead is responsible for ensuring competitive, compliant, and value based pricing across the entire product lifecycle, from early development and launch to contracting and mature brand management. The role brings deep payer and market expertise, steers pricing strategy and governance, translates international pricing guidance into effective local execution, and leads contracting and tendering activities to secure sustainable patient access while maximizing portfolio value.

About the Role

Key responsibilities

- Provide payer and market expertise to shape robust pricing and contracting strategies across the full product lifecycle.
- Lead the review, validation, and endorsement of country pricing proposals and business cases, and actively support negotiations with payers and public authorities.
- Assess and clearly communicate the market, payer, and patient access implications of pricing decisions, ensuring alignment with portfolio and access objectives.
- Develop, maintain, and continuously enhance pricing tools, models, and guidance to support access, field, and cross functional teams.
- Translate global and regional pricing guidance into compliant, locally optimized pricing strategies and ensure consistent execution across the portfolio.
- Embed pricing strategies into launch planning, tender processes, and contracting activities, including management of price changes, rebates, and discounts.
- Design and implement access contracting and tender strategies from launch through loss of exclusivity, including mature brand optimization and renewals.
- Lead or support complex contract negotiations with payers, hospitals, and authorities, ensuring high quality tender submissions and sustainable outcomes.
- Oversee end to end pricing and contracting process management, including system accuracy and operational coordination with Finance.
- Partner closely with Access Strategy, Access Field, HEOR/HTA, Commercial, Finance, and regional teams to ensure strong cross functional alignment.
- Foster a high performance culture by coaching, developing talent, strengthening succession, and role modeling Novartis Leadership Expectations.

Requirements

- University degree in Economics, Business, Pharmacy, Life Sciences, or a related field; fluent English and country language (Polish); 5-10 years of relevant professional experience.
- Proven experience in Market Access, Pricing, HEOR/HTA, Commercial, Finance (esp. Business Planning & Analysis or related consulting roles) within the pharmaceutical or healthcare environment.
- Advanced analytical skills, including financial modeling and development of robust pricing business cases.
- Strong track record in pricing strategy development, payer negotiations, tender management, and access contracting.
- In depth understanding of pricing methodologies, contracting models, tender mechanisms, and product lifecycle management.
- Solid knowledge of pricing governance frameworks, systems, and compliance requirements.
- Excellent communication skills, with the ability to clearly articulate pricing rationale and value propositions to diverse stakeholders.
- Proven negotiation capability and ability to lead complex, high stake discussions with payers and public authorities.
- Strong ownership mindset, sound judgment, and ability to influence without formal authority.
- Resilient, solution oriented, and effective in ambiguous and evolving environments.
