If you care about doing work that genuinely protects patients, this is the role where your precision really matters. As a Quality Control Officer at Novartis, you ' ll be at the heart of the quality control laboratory - running analytical testing, spotting anything unusual early, and supporting clear, high-quality investigations when results fall outside specifications. You ' ll also help with qualification work for laboratory equipment and computerized systems, contribute to strong documentation, and keep laboratory processes reliable, compliant, and continuously improving - so every release meets the standards patients depend on.

About the Role

Key Responsibilities

- Perform routine quality control testing of raw materials, intermediates, and finished products following approved analytical methods.
- Identify, document, and escalate deviations or unexpected results promptly to protect product quality and compliance.
- Conduct sampling, documentation, and trend analysis for environmental monitoring in line with site programs.
- Lead and contribute to investigations, including deviations and out-of-specification results, ensuring timely and robust closure.
- Support qualification and re-qualification of laboratory equipment, analytical methods, and computerized systems.
- Maintain accurate, complete, and compliant laboratory documentation within a highly regulated environment.

Essential Requirements

- Bachelor ' s degree in chemistry, biochemistry, microbiology, or a comparable life science field.
- At least 1 year of experience (preferred more) in a pharmaceutical quality control laboratory in a highly regulated environment.
- Strong knowledge of good laboratory practices and current good manufacturing practice expectations.
- Proven ability to document and support investigations, including deviations and out-of-specification results, with strong attention to detail.
- Fluent English, with a collaborative and proactive mindset focused on continuous improvement and timely delivery.
- Analytical mind-set and eye for detail

Desirable Requirements

- English
- Dutch language skills are an advantage.

Why Novartis: Helping people with disease and their families takes more than innovative science. It takes a community of smart, passionate people like you. Collaborating, supporting and inspiring each other. Combining to achieve breakthroughs that change patients ' lives.
