摘要

The Marketing Lead for Novartis Contract Manufacturing role involves shaping and executing the Novartis Contract Manufacturing brand 's storytelling, visual identity, and content strategy across all platforms. This role bridges creativity and strategy to drive brand awareness, engage audiences, and support business growth through impactful messaging and experiences.

About the Role

Major Accountabilities

- Develop and execute integrated brand storytelling and marketing strategies that strengthen Novartis CDMO's market positioning, increase brand awareness, and create meaningful engagement with Large Pharma and Small-to-Mid Biotech customers.
- Own the end-to-end content strategy and editorial calendar, ensuring alignment with business priorities, solution offerings, campaign objectives, and long-term capacity planning requirements.

- Lead the creation of high-quality technical and thought leadership content, including white papers, case studies, articles, blogs, presentations, and customer success stories that support demand generation and commercial growth.
- Drive consistent brand messaging and visual identity across all digital, print, and event-based marketing materials, ensuring alignment with go-to-market strategies and customer buying journeys.
- Oversee the development of creative assets and marketing collateral, including graphics, videos, presentations, infographics, brochures, and promotional materials that enhance audience engagement and brand credibility.
- Provide strategic leadership for trade shows, conferences, webinars, and industry events, including content planning, booth messaging, presentations, demonstrations, and event-related marketing campaigns.
- Monitor, analyze, and optimize content and campaign performance using marketing analytics and KPI dashboards, leveraging insights to improve engagement, lead generation, conversion rates, SEO performance, and marketing ROI.
- Collaborate with global cross-functional stakeholders, including Business Development, Technical Operations, Communications, Commercial teams, and external partners, to deliver integrated marketing initiatives that support business growth and revenue objectives.

Minimum Requirements

- Bachelor ' s degree in Marketing, Communications, Business Administration, Life Sciences, or a related field is required; MBA or Master ' s degree with a specialization in Marketing, Digital Strategy, or Life Sciences is preferred.
- Minimum 8+ years of progressive B2B marketing experience, preferably within the pharmaceutical, biotechnology, healthcare, CDMO, or contract manufacturing industries.
- Demonstrated expertise in brand management, content marketing, and digital engagement strategies, with a proven ability to build and execute successful multi-channel marketing programs.
- Strong experience developing technical and scientific content, including white papers, case studies, thought leadership articles, presentations, and customer-facing marketing collateral.
- Proficiency in marketing technology platforms, including marketing automation tools, CRM systems, content management platforms, and marketing analytics dashboards.
- Strong analytical and performance marketing capabilities, with experience measuring campaign effectiveness, lead generation, conversion metrics, SEO performance, and marketing ROI.
- Proven ability to collaborate effectively across global and cross-functional teams, including Business Development, Technical Operations, Commercial, Communications, and external agency partners.
- Excellent communication, presentation, stakeholder management, and project management skills, with the ability to translate business objectives into actionable marketing strategies and manage multiple priorities in a fast-paced global environment.
