Job Title: Therapy Area Communications & Patient Advocacy Lead
#LI-Hybrid
Location: London, United Kingdom

Relocation Support: This role is based in London, United Kingdom. Novartis is unable to offer relocation support: please only apply if accessible.

Are you passionate about shaping healthcare conversations that make a real difference for patients? As Therapy Area Communications & Patient Advocacy Lead, you will play a pivotal role in elevating the voice of patients while driving innovative communications strategies across a key therapeutic area. Working at the intersection of communications, patient advocacy, data-driven insights, and business strategy, you will partner with senior leaders, patient organizations, and global teams to influence outcomes, support successful product journeys, and help create an environment where patients remain at the heart of every decision. This is an exciting opportunity to lead meaningful change, drive measurable impact, and help shape the future of healthcare communications at Novartis.

About the Role

Key Responsibilities

- Develop and execute communications and patient advocacy strategies aligned with therapeutic area priorities.
- Build trusted partnerships with business leaders to provide strategic communications counsel.
- Partner with patient advocacy organizations to strengthen patient engagement and healthcare access initiatives.
- Lead launch communications plans across pre-launch, launch, and in-market brand activities.
- Use data, analytics, and artificial intelligence insights to guide decisions and measure impact.
- Collaborate with corporate, regional, and global teams to drive aligned communications strategies.
- Foster a high-performing, inclusive team culture that encourages innovation, learning, and collaboration.

Essential Requirements

- Degree in communications, public affairs, patient advocacy, marketing, or a related discipline.
- Significant experience in communications and patient advocacy within a complex organizational environment.
- Proven experience developing and delivering strategic communications programmes.
- Artificial intelligence and data fluency, including the use of artificial intelligence tools to drive efficiency, generate insights, and improve decision-making, with an understanding of artificial intelligence's impact on the external healthcare and communications landscape.
- Strong knowledge of digital communications, including social media strategy and execution.
- Experience building partnerships with patient organizations and healthcare stakeholders.
- Demonstrated expertise in media relations, stakeholder engagement, and policy communications.
- Excellent influencing skills with the ability to engage senior stakeholders across functions.

Desirable Requirements

- High level of accountability, agility, and a continuous improvement mindset.
- Ability to influence and lead cross-functional teams without direct authority.
