The US Insights and Analytics (I&A) team is dedicated to enabling improved decision making at Novartis by leveraging data and advanced analytics capabilities to generate actionable insights that drive business growth. We collaborate closely with the US Market Access and Patient Support (MAPS), bringing insights and challenging ideas to empower smarter, data-driven decision-making. Reporting into the Director, Clinical Care & Access I&A, this role is a critical contributor to brand & IPST decision-making from a MAPS perspective, by providing actionable insights, developing performance narratives, and ensuring alignment between brand strategies and organizational priorities to optimize business outcomes.
The AD, Clinical Care & Access I&A, Hyderabad serves as a key driver of actionable insights to MAPS by translating complex data into clear, actionable strategies that enhance decision-making across the organization. By collaborating closely with cross-functional teams, directors in MAPS facing pillars of CC&A, this role ensures a deep understanding of performance trends, identifies opportunities for business growth, development and streamlining of core MAPS capabilities and delivers concise performance narratives that inform both tactical actions and strategic direction. Acting as a trusted partner to leadership, the role also supports operational planning and fosters alignment across teams, enabling brands to achieve their full potential within the broader business ecosystem. The role emphasizes cross-functional insight synthesis, operational excellence, and strong collaboration with both Hyderabad and US teams.
